

Privacy policy

Here at All About Homes, we're committed to protecting your personal information and respecting your privacy in everything we do. This Policy lets you know what data we may collect about you, how we use it and gives you information about your rights and how you can get in touch with us.

Sometimes we need to change our Privacy Policy. Any changes will be published on our website which can be accessed at any time.

Who we are

Quality accommodation at an affordable price with an honest service is central to the All About Homes offer, with no hidden costs or agency fees.

What information we collect about you

When you register with us to apply for accommodation, we collect name and contact details, gender and date of birth. This is because we will be creating a Tenancy Agreement for you which is a legal document. We ask if you have a medical condition/disability which would affect what type of room you would need. We also ask for the name and contact details of your Guarantor, what their occupation is, how long they have lived at their address and whether they own or rent the property they live in. Tenants and prospective tenants should ensure that they have obtained permission from their guarantors when providing their personal details to All About Homes.

We also ask you to tell us your nationality and ethnicity. This is a standard question on the software we use, but it does help us to understand people's specific living requirements better. For example, you may need to live in a single sex environment.

When visiting our website, we have access to your IP address, data showing when you visited, which pages you looked at, information about your operating system, device and browser version. This data is gathered using Google Analytics and commonly used tools such as cookies and web beacons.
